Historical note

The hybrid seed corn company Garst and Thomas was founded in Coon Rapids, Iowa, in 1931 by Roswell Garst and Charles W. Thomas. During the 1930s, Garst traveled thousands of miles of country roads selling the company's seed corn with great success. He distributed more than 10,000 sample bags of seed corn in western Iowa and Nebraska as a way of marketing his product. By the end of the decade, representatives of Garst and Thomas sold hybrid seed corn to farmers in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Colorado. In 1955, Garst traveled to the Soviet Union and Romania, selling hybrid seed corn there and beginning a tradition of sales to Eastern Europe. By the mid-1960s, the Garst and Thomas company produced 5% of all hybrid seed corn produced in the United States. The Garsts bought out the Thomas partners in the business in 1982, renaming it the Garst Seed Company. The Garst company was acquired in 1985 by the ICI Group, a chemical company with headquarters in the United Kingdom, and Garst Seed became ICI Seeds, Inc., in 1991.

Collection description

The collection (1933-1973, undated) contains claims, correspondence, reports, invoices, audits and other business records. This voluminous collection also includes correspondence with banking institutions, related companies, and customers, in addition to insurance correspondence, reports and advertising samples and illustrations. These records provide a wide-ranging view of a major agricultural firm in the twentieth century.

Organization

The collection is arranged in chronological order by year.
